AUTUMN / WINTER 2026

Since independence, our grandfathers, fathers, and even mothers dressed for work with a certain intentionality, carrying themselves with the pride of those who knew that showing up – day after day, year after year – was a form of devotion.

Daftar – the office – then, was never simply about labour. It was a world with its own cadence, a place, a purpose, that informed the lives of the men and women who passed through its doors every morning. It was, in the modest charm of its setting, that a community was built through a variety of gestures: the mid-morning chai passed from one hand to another, the patient mentor leaning over a desk, the familiar rustle of papers, the ceiling fan turning above a well-worn table, marking time in gentle circles.

Autumn Winter 2026 returns to this world not with nostalgia, but with reverence. Our collection is an ode to legacy – to the understated wisdom of the people who shaped our new freedom and in turn, us; to the unspoken bonds forged by work shared; and to the lives lived through the halls of the Daftar.
